T. A. Notzger, Esq., of Anthony was in the city yesterday.

A. M. Goldstand left last night for a business trip to Kansas City.

Mrs. H. Joseph of Augusta, Kan., is in the city the guest of Mrs. B. Collier.

Last evening was a shooting affair on east Douglas avenue said to be accidental.

R. McMillan, cashier of the bank of Col. Wick, is in the city today on a business trip.

R. R. Schenck, ticket agent at the Fort Scott depot, is off for a recreation trip to the east.

Mr. Dunning of the Greening house says he has come back to settle up all his outstanding accounts.

Mr. H. G. Toler was elected a director of the state national bank at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Messrs. Howard McNamee and John Mulvey left yesterday morning for Ft. Scott, where they will remain for some days.

Messrs. F. V. Healey and John V. Moffitt left last evening on a trip to the western part of the state, and will be absent for some days.

Yesterday Mr. W. R. Dulaney sold a hundred foot front on the corner of Lawrence and Third street to Mr. F. G. Smyth, Jr., for $7,500.

Mr. Mercer of the new Main street theatre left for Chicago this p.m., to meet dramatic people who are engaged for a season by the management.

W. A. Morris has moved into and nicely fitted up a front office at No. 221 E. Douglas avenue, and associated with him Mr. E. B. Road, a former member of the bar at Bloomington, Ill.

George Maginnis, the young man who appeared in Justice Walker's court under the name of John Doe, to answer to the charge of stealing a pair of pants from Peter Speer, was sent to the county jail.

Hon. E. B. Allen, the secretary of state, arrived in the city Wednesday evening and will not leave on return trip until tomorrow evening. He has almost completely recovered from his late train accident.

Our readers will find elsewhere the sworn statement of three or four of our national banks which statements, as barometers of our property, are probably more satisfactory to financial and commercial people than any other which could be shown.

Commodore Woodman visited the Eagle yesterday, and we are happy to see the brave old friend of Wichita gradually recovering from his recent sickness. Mr. Woodman spoke of some of his speeches published a long time ago, in which he attempted to show the advantages of railroad connections with the southern states and the gulf. He is now elated over the prospect of our southern roads, and predicts higher prices for farm products and a great prosperity for Wichita and surrounding country.

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Interview with a Contractor and Lumber Agent.

"To get a respectable idea of Wichita's building boom one must go to the various freight depots and size up the daily delivery of building material," said one of Wichita's contractors yesterday. "Just look at the Fort Scott yards. The upper and lower yards and Wichita street and all that neighborhood isn't sufficient territory to supply the company in handling material. All night long cars unloaded the day before are being taken out of the yard and new cars loads take their place. Material by the train load arrives every night and the company can't deliver as fast as the demand. The same thing is repeated by the Santa Fe, W. & W., Frisco, and in fact all the roads that have anything to do with Wichita. The material is arriving, of course, very fast, but not as rapidly as it is earnestly desired by the builders. A man does well to get his material a month after ordered. Some of our people ordered material some weeks ago and it hasn't arrived. As an example, the stock yards company a long time since ordered building material. The lumber company engaged to get the material have always been prolific in promises and hopes when any of the members of the stock yards company were present and the many weeks of patiently waiting has been rewarded with one car load of cedar posts from Wisconsin. Verily, in this case, the mountains are in labor and a mouse is brought forth. There seems to be a good prospect for the stock yards company to get some more posts and general building material sometime, but not in the near future. Their experience is duplicated by many in the city desiring to build. Some claim that a man can get material much quicker by slyly administering a little booze occasionally. It is claimed by some that the booze boys always get there first, no matter when orders come in. Some fellows kick on the booze plan, and think it is sufficient to pay a big price for material without any booze account."

Concerning the wonderful building boom in the city an agent for a northern lumber company who works the state for his company stated yesterday that he had been in all the booming towns and many of the slow ones in the state, and no one buys anywhere near the amount of lumber that Wichita does. "In fact," he said, "I don't believe a man can find a half dozen cities or towns in the state that use as much lumber as Wichita. The lumber companies can't get enough of it in the city. Just get up early some morning and visit a lumber yard in Wichita. There will be 6 o'clock in the morning, not less than twenty-five teams waiting for the turn to be thrown open all waiting for the turn. Some wagons reach the lumber yards by 4:30 in the morning in order to get their load first. Such the rush in Wichita and not to be found in any other city in the state, or the union for that matter."

In talking with a gentleman connected with one of the stone companies in the city, he stated that the new railroads were making it possible to get a better and cheaper building stone to the city than had ever before been secured. The new quarries reached are nearer and our building people will not be compelled to wait for stone so long. This feature for the near future he thought a very acceptable one for Wichita.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Yesterday afternoon Chas. Todd, a plasterer about twenty-eight years of age, was arrested upon a serious charge, preferred against him by Mr. C. E. Jones, a well known real estate man.

Todd, it is said, burst open a door to an old house and was about to make a criminal assault upon the daughter of Mr. Jones, when the little girl's cries frightened him and he gave up the accomplishment of his heinous design.

She ran home and related the circumstances to her father who becoming very angry started in pursuit of the villain that had made such an assault upon his little girl. While driving on Emporia, the child pointed out a man and said he was her assailant. Mr. Jones called the person and talking him into the carriage drove with him to the city building handing him over to city Marshal Cairnes by whom he was locked in the city prison. Later in the day he was brought before Justice Walker and sent to the county jail upon the charge attempted rape.

Last night about 10 o'clock he was visited at the jail and through the bars of the cell said, when spoken regarding the crime, "I know nothing about the crime. I have been working all day on Pennsylvania avenue in the south part of the city at my trade, plastering. I came up Lulu avenue to get a load of sand and returned to my work. Afterwards, when I was coming down Emporia avenue, Mr. Jones in a carriage with two other gentlemen and two little girls came driving along. Reaching me he called me to come to him. Asking me to take a seat in his carriage, he drove to the mayor's and then to the corner, where I was confined. The next place I came to was Justice Walker's court and he set my preliminary hearing for next Tuesday. I am innocent and can prove that I never was near the Fourth ward school house at the time the offense is alleged to have taken place."

Todd is a rather good looking fellow with florid complexion, black hair and mustache. He is said by members of the police force to have hanging over his head the suspicion of being connected with a horse theft committed last summer.

Mr. Jones intends pushing the prosecution, and if the man be guilty have him punished to the fullest extent of the law.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Wednesday evening, May 18, was the event of a brilliant social gathering at the residence of Mr. Emmet Ferrall, corner of Meade and Central avenue, it being in honor of Miss Alva Jackson's birthday. The party consisted principally of friends and acquaintances formerly from Columbiana county, Ohio. The evening was very pleasantly spent in merry-making, social chat, singing songs, and partaking of a tempting repast. It was the general expression of the "old" Buckeyes present that while they cherish and venerate the memory of their native state, with its wooded hills and verdant valleys, the scenes of their childhood, yet "Sunny Kansas" has charms which are more fascinating and not less enduring.

A LITTLE SCRAP.

Yesterday afternoon a drayman drove up in front of a store on East Douglas and commenced unloading goods. His actions in some way did not suit the proprietor, and he came out to whip the drayman. The latter was prepared for him, and a very exciting tussle ensued. Officer Wood, however, came along and arrested both parties and gave them an opportunity to settle their difficulty in the police court.

ASCENSION SERVICE.

Last evening the Knights Templar held ascension day service at the St. John's church with very appropriate ceremonies. The Knights entered the church in the following order:

Cross bearer; six knights, by twos, with banner; standard bearer; with banner; officers of the command; officiating clergy. The air knights entered uncovered, and the clergy had passed through the lines took their position in the pews, at a signal from the Captain General Sir Knight Findlay Ross, they remained standing at uncover.

The service opened with a hymn, "Onward Christian Soldier," sung by the six knights and congregation, followed by the customary devotional exercises, and after the sermon by Rev. Adams and benediction, the recessional hymn was sung while the knights passed out, accompanied by their ladies. Outside they formed in marching line and proceeded to the Masonic hall, from which place, de-laying a few minutes, they visited the Idlewild restaurant, where an elegant repast was prepared for the occasion. The knights and ladies having spent a social time there, departed at a late hour to their respective abodes.

The choir was composed of B. B. Hull, Free Howe and Misses Earl and Hall.

The following is the sermon delivered to the Sir Knights by Rev. Adams:

Sir Knights—In speaking to you tonight many remembrances come one—when you were organized—why were you organized? Your order is almost seven hundred years old. That space of time seems with trepidation to be the longest of time. It is a long time, but it is a long time of history we see giants. They handed down to us many things of importance. They rejected others of as great importance as those they thought them contaminated by Rome. One of these is the calendar—the church year—with its holy days. Not many weeks since, on Good Friday, we were here together with a draped altar and a veiled cross remembering the last agony, bearing one cry, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Then we shed tears. On Easter Sunday we met each other with a joyful "The Lord is risen," and the response: "Is risen indeed." On this ascension day we look into the heavens and see the ascending Lord.

Seven centuries is a great space of time. Nineteen hundred years is a still greater space. Seven centuries ago your order was organized. Nineteen hundred years ago the Christ organized the church in the interest of which your order came into existence. More of Knights Templarship farther on. Now about the church, which is external Christianity; and in view of your order—in view of the ascend in Christ, remembering the forty days between the resurrection and the ascension, what theme could be more appropriate than external Christianity?

That you may take a passage of scripture away with you, I will read you my text, the first verse of the 14th chapter of the gospel, according to St. John:

"I am the true vine and my father is the husbandman."

The first thing necessary to the growth of a vine is life. What is the life of Christianity? That life which was in the Christ—love. Then comes the plant which appears in physical form. To illustrate, there is an internal Knights Templar ship; but would you be Knights Templar had you not been initiated by certain rights and ceremonies? Would people know you to be such were it not for your regalia? The vine has a material form by which it is distinguished from all other vegetable growths.

The Knights Templar has certain marks, or a certain form with distinguishing the order from all other orders. The same is true of the church. Could any one of you go out and start a new Knights Templar order? You say, no. Then could I go out and form a new church? It would not be the church, it would be something else.

That the vine may bear perfect fruit something else is necessary—the husbandman, the vine, must be cultivated. Wild grapes are not so good as tame or cultivated ones.

The husbandman first prepares the soil. The great husbandman sent Julius Caesar to conquer a universal peace, that there might be planting of the vine which is to fill the world.

The husbandman works through instrumentalities. With his knife he prunes the vine. So early in the church the church Rome becoming arrogant the other great patriarchates, such as Jerusalem and Alexandria, cut her off. The fork becoming the right upon the vine the husbandman would cut it if it may bleed. At the reformation God did the same, and the church bleeds today. But there is evidence that the reformation is not over. The vine of the good and honest from sectarianism, who see their mistake, grows greater and greater.

Then that the vine may grow stronger and bear larger and better fruit, the husbandman with axe and scythe must remove the overgrowth which, which saps the growth and keeps off the sun and the rain and the dew. So God sent Peter the Hermit to preach the crusade. The kings, the nobles and the knights heard the cry, and they rushed to reclaim the sepulcher. The knights who founded your order, Sir Knights, founded it to defend the holy sepulcher and protect those who would form about and in it—the christian pilgrims from the quarters of the world. The sepulcher is open to us now. For what does it stand to us? Immortality, christianity, the church, liberty—the breadth, the height, the depth of truth.

You stand for the defense of the sepulcher as much as did your founder. I was glad when the "Draw and present sword" was from your commander, at the repelling of the apostles—comes to us clean washed from the remotest time in the history of the church. Stand for it. Make more of it—in the richness of its catholicity and the church which is built about it: She is our hope.

BAND CONCERT.

The following programme will be given by the K. of P. band in their new band stand on South Main street this evening, beginning at 7:30 sharp:

1. Quick March—Company D. . . . . Ripley
2. Overture—Andrews Novelties. . . . . Southwell
3. Wedding Eve—Andante and Waltz . . . . . Weddell
4. Overture—Bardolf . . . . . Southwell
5. Helena Waltz . . . . . Pettie
6. Quickstep—Phallins . . . . . Pettie
7. Overture—Zelmira . . . . . Ripley
8. Bell's Galop . . . . . Southwell

A HOT CHASE.

Last evening a big burly negro went into the notorious Green house on south Fifth avenue and commenced beating his wife who was employed at the place. The police were called and Tom answered immediately. The colored man however saw the officer coming and took to flight, giving Tom an interesting chase quite a distance south of the Wichita & Western.

WORKING SLOWLY.

The foundation for the hotel near the stock yards has been completed. Brick work will commence in a few days.

One car load of cedar posts for the company have arrived. More are expected in a few days. The delay in getting material has been productive of a good deal of uneasiness on the part of the company, but it doesn't seem to hurry up the arrival very much.

Hon. Hancock Taylor of Kentucky, nephew of Ex-president Taylor, is in the city with a view of buying some farm lands in the Happy Valley. Mr. Taylor represented Jefferson county several terms in the legislature of Kentucky. He is a cultured gentleman and is giving his attention to the raising of fine stock. We hope he may settle near our city.

Messrs. Coffey and Pritchard yesterday put upon the street an elegant new hack, one of the richest furnished in the city.

AMUSEMENTS.

MUSEUM.
The excellent bill offered at the Museum continues to draw crowded houses at every entertainment. "Everybody's Friend," or the "Widow Hunt," together with the popular specialty attractions will constitute the programme for the rest of the week. An entire new bill on Sunday.

GARFIELD OPERA HOUSE.
The literary entertainment offered at the Garfield opera house on Saturday evening will be attractive as well as instructive. Over sixty seats have been sold to the educational faculty of our public schools.

CRAWFORD.
The attraction at Crawford's last night was Lady of Lyons, by Stetson's company. Tonight "Neck by Neck."

THE COURTS.
JUSTICE COURT.
Yesterday Justice Walker issued a warrant for the arrest of one John Doe, who it is alleged, in the complaint, had stolen a pair of pants valued at $7 from Peter Speer. He was placed under arrest.

Several civil cases were also disposed of in both of the courts.

DISTRICT COURT.
S. G. Ackerman vs. School Board of District No. 46; dismissed for want of prosecution. William M. Milikin vs. Orilla Rowley et al., M. J. White vs. St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Co. and Dean, Maxwell & Co. vs. W. D. McCormick, were also dismissed.

S. W. Shattuck vs. L. D. Boyer: judgment for plaintiff of $445.31.

Chas. M. Powell vs. Rufus Cone; judgment for defendant.

J. C. Summerville vs. J. W. Mohler; judgment for plaintiff of $371.41.

Most of the afternoon was consumed in the trial of A. Flagg vs. Sam'l W. Bailey.

POLICE COURT.
The trial of the salvation army yesterday attracted quite a crowd of spectators. The place of trial was for this reason changed from the police court to the clerk's office. The salvationists, seventeen in number were seated around the table, several of the men in their uniforms, the women in blue dresses and red belts upon which were scriptural admonitions. They were represented by Attorneys Mr. Armstrong Mr. Dyer appearing for the city. The first one tried was W. C. Lerick, a major in the army, the charge against him was disturbing the peace. He was found guilty and fined $5 and costs of prosecution. The case will, however, be appealed. One of the number, George Fox, was dismissed; the trial of the remaining will be commenced this morning at 9 o'clock.

Thomas Humphrey and A. J. Wilson were two drunks, both are now engaged upon the stone pile.

Henry James, J. F. Meacham and J. J. Flynn were charged with disturbing the peace. In the first case execution of sentence was suspended; in the other the fines were paid.

PROBATE COURT.
Bond filed and letter of administration filed in the estate of Jennie J. Werriek, deceased. Also in the estate of the Werriek minors. Petition filed to appoint guardian for Bibby minors.

ZOOLOGICAL MUSEUM.
Mr. W. G. McConnell has secured a room on the second floor of the building formerly occupied by the Wichita Wholesale Grocery Company on North Main street in which he will open up a zoological museum. The room has a front on Main street of fifty feet and is one hundred and fifty feet deep. It will be divided into two rooms by a partition each 25x100 ft. In one room will be the museum. The exhibit will consist of monkeys, bears, gray wolves, flocky lammar, ant eater, ocelot, lynx, alligator ten foot long with three young ones, South American sloth, raccoons, musk deer two years old weighing 120 pounds, and about two hundred smaller animals.

One of the gray wolves arrived last night by Adams' express. Mr. McConnell led him from the office of the company on Main street to his cage in the museum. Although the sidewalk was crowded it was no trouble to get along. The crowd did not seem desirous of rubbing up against the wild animal, although he seemed perfectly tame and tractable except when a dog should get in sight, then he would show signs of war.

Mr. McConnell has now on hand some monster snakes. Of the bird species he has the blue and red green macaws and all kinds of talking parrots. The department is supplied with all kinds of birds of plumage and song.

The adjoining room will be fitted up for an auditorium. Mr. McConnell left last night for Kansas City to secure an opera troupe, which will probably give the first entertainment tomorrow night. The hall is being worked upon day and night, hoping to have it completed for the above date.

ONE DAY LEFT.
An official stated yesterday that today was the last day for canines to live and prosper in the city without wearing a badge showing that they were paying for the frequent midnight disturbances.

"I am glad to note that comparatively few of the dogs have made their appearance at the city clerk's office and made the necessary deposit to compel the neighbors to put up with the unearthly howling and yelling that has always had a tendency to give the city the nightmare. The result of this hesitation to put up can easily be guessed. The city will soon have to pay for a big day bill. You remember near a year ago the police upon instruction opened upon the city pets and great was the kick of the natives. Yes, and great will be the kick of the natives this time, and just let them kick. You just watch for the pups to open up early some of these mornings and little dog without a tag' beware. There are at least 1,500 dogs in this town that ought to die without ceremony. The fact is that on some of these streets a man ain't safe after night on account of the dogs. They are to be dreaded now more than the tuffs that line some of the back streets. An open faced Waterbury bull dog coming at a man commands attention but isn't very entertaining. I would like to see the police turn out in full force and make a thorough scatterment."

CREMATORY.
Some of the machinery for the cremator has arrived. It will be put in place as rapidly as possible. It is the intention of the company to put in a boiler and bid on heating some of the leading blocks in the city. It is claimed that steam heating can be furnished buildings even two miles away from the furnace. The site selected by the council seems to give general satisfaction. Only a few of those who have property near by are heard to remark against the action of the council. They think the location for the city's welfare and worth $1,000 more than the one owned by the city on the west end of Kellogg street.
